

45) 1870m Camphor tree (Cinnamomum camphora) クスノキ

Koryuji Temple 光隆寺

1-6-9 Misasa-machi, Nishi-ku, Hiroshima 西区三篠町一丁目 6-9

The tree was burned by the atomic bomb but sprouted from the stump. Today there are three trunks from the same roots. The temple was also burned down by the atomic bomb. The main hall was rebuilt in 1960.

Please note that this document has been created by volunteers who would like to support the tree-planting initiative of Green Legacy Hiroshima. Despite every possible effort to ensure accuracy, we cannot ascertain the content. Copying photos and sentences without permission is prohibited.

unitar
United Nations Institute for Training and Research

