20 Young South Sudanese Professionals Begin UNITAR Leadership and Entrepreneurship Training in Juba

19 June 2018, Juba, South Sudan – The fourth cycle of the UNITAR Hiroshima South Sudan Fellowship: Entrepreneurship and Project Planning began on 12 June as 20 young South Sudanese professionals took part in the programme's Orientation Workshop in Juba, South Sudan. The Orientation Workshop will be followed by Workshop II which is scheduled to take place from 20 to 26 June in Entebbe, Uganda. Now in its fourth cycle, the programme has 64 alumni, who represent 42 different organizations.

The programme is a six-month capacity-building training for junior- to mid-career-level professionals that focuses on project planning, leadership, and social entrepreneurship skills. This year, 20 Fellows, including 10 women, from the public sector, private sector, academic institutions, media, and civil society organisations of South Sudan were selected following a competitive merit-based selection process. Five standout Fellows from the previous cycle have been assigned as Coaches; they will support new Fellows in their learning journey by sharing their experiences and insights gained through the previous cycle of the programme.

During the Orientation Workshop, Director of the UNITAR Hiroshima Office Ms. Mihoko Kumamoto remarked, “The alumni network of this training has been expanding, and it now includes 64 professionals from multiple sectors. Today, 20 talented individuals joined our training programme for Cycle 2018. They will go through intensive learning for the next four months, so that they can contribute to creating a peaceful, sustainable future for South Sudan. We look forward to working with them closely.”

H.E. Mr. Seiji Okada, Ambassador of Japan to South Sudan, explained Japanese policy to provide humanitarian aid, capacity-building training, and development assistance to South Sudanese people. Ambassador Okada elaborated that the Embassy of Japan has been working tirelessly to ensure that the projects it manages are based on actual needs on the ground. He commented that the participants will receive good skill on needs assessment, which they can make best use of in their careers. The ambassador also expressed his wishes that participants learn from their experience in Hiroshima, where they will visit in late summer, that stability and capacity building is key for economic development and recovery from the devastation of war.

About the Programme

The UNITAR Hiroshima South Sudan Fellowship was developed by the UNITAR Hiroshima Office, with funding support from the Government and people of Japan and with institutional support from the Government of the Republic of South Sudan, to cultivate the social entrepreneurship and project-development knowledge, skills, and attitudes of selected South Sudanese professionals. The programme features a blended learning methodology and includes asynchronous and online training, coupled with two juba-based and two international workshops. Each workshop links with Fellows-led projects examining challenges and opportunities as they exist in South Sudan today.

South Sudan’s Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation is the political focal point for the programme and the Ministry of Labour, Public Service, and Human Resource Development is the operational focal point.

About UNITAR

The United Nations Institute for Training and Research is a principal training arm of the United Nations, working in every region of the world. It empowers individuals, governments, and organisations through knowledge and learning to effectively overcome contemporary global challenges. The UNITAR Hiroshima Office, mandated to promote post-conflict reconstruction and international peace, has long engaged in designing and conducting training for people from post-conflict countries, such as Afghanistan and Iraq, and commands a unique understanding of the needs of such trainees as they work toward peace.
