United Nations Institute for Training and Research

The United Nations Institute for Training and Research (UNITAR) is a leading provider of training in global and strategic challenges for professionals both within and outside of the United Nations system and delivers more than 500 training activities per year, reaching over 55,000 professionals worldwide. Providing capacity-building activities and executive learning for diplomats, government officials, international civil servants and private sector entities, UNITAR's Division for Multilateral Diplomacy seeks to equip leaders of the world in the fields of diplomacy and international affairs while meeting complex global challenges and contributing to the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals.

IACA

INTERNATIONAL ANTI-CORRUPTION ACADEMY

The International Anti-Corruption Academy (IACA) is an international organization and post-secondary educational institution based in Laxenburg, Austria. Through education, training, research, and cooperation, IACA empowers professionals and provides technical assistance to stakeholders seeking to strengthen their anti-corruption and compliance regimes. 80 member states and international organizations form part of its global constituency.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Executive Diploma in Anti-Corruption and Diplomacy (EDACD) programme is a modular training delivered jointly by the International Anti-Corruption Academy (IACA) and the United Nations Institute for Training and Research (UNITAR). The programme will take place over the course of five months in an online format.

EDACD programme is designed to offer insight into two disciplines, anti-corruption and diplomacy, delivered through a series of modules focusing on practical concepts and cases of preventing and countering corruption, and concrete examples and skills of diplomacy in a multilateral setting.
