MASTER in ANTI-CORRUPTION AND DIPLOMACY (MACD)

POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMME

STARTS: 23 SEPTEMBER 2024

APPLICATION DEADLINE: 26 AUGUST 2024

■ ABOUT

The Master in Anti-Corruption and Diplomacy (MACD) is a modular postgraduate academic degree programme delivered over 18 months, in a mixture of campus-based and online classes, jointly by the International Anti-Corruption Academy (IACA) and the United Nations Institute for Training and Research (UNITAR).

One of the programme modules will take place for one week at the UNITAR Headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, accompanied with a guided visit to the United Nations Office at Geneva.

The programme covers a wide range of subjects and cross-cutting themes relating to studies of anti-corruption and diplomacy, ethics, law, digital and cyber diplomacy, the politics, sociology and economics of corruption, as well as skills essential for an international career such as negotiation, effective writing, leadership skills, public speaking and stakeholder coordination and engagement.

■ TARGET AUDIENCE

The MACD programme is designed for those holding an undergraduate degree who intend to avail an opportunity to study under some of the world's most renowned experts in anti-corruption and diplomacy, in a participatory and unique international environment, and within a group of motivated and committed individuals in order to deepen their understanding of anti-corruption and diplomacy, and hence adding greater value to their respective careers, organizations and societies.

Nikhil Seth
United Nations Assistant
Secretary General
Executive Director, UNITAR

“ I am thrilled to announce the launch of the new joint UNITAR and IACA Master in Anti-Corruption with the first cohort starting in November 2021. This program offers participants the unique opportunity to study within a truly international and participatory environment and learn from some of the world’s most renowned experts in Anti-Corruption and Diplomacy.

Andy Spalding
Associate Professor at the University of Richmond
School of Law

“ International cooperation is proving to be the key to successful global anti-corruption reform. Cooperation, in turn, requires intelligent diplomacy from well-trained leaders. IACA’s globalized faculty, staff, and students, and its close connections to the major international institutions, allow it to provide this uniquely important program.

Rabih El-Haddad
Director, Division for Multilateral Diplomacy, UNITAR

“ With the joint Master in Anti-Corruption and Diplomacy, UNITAR and IACA join forces and expertise to bring together international young professionals from various fields to study under outstanding experts in anti-corruption and diplomacy, creating a unique community of committed and motivated individuals.

Jerome L'host
Senior Consultant and UNITAR Expert

“ The new Master in Anti-Corruption and Diplomacy taught jointly by UNITAR and IACA is an excellent opportunity for young professionals to not only acquire and enhance their skills and knowledge in diplomacy, anti-corruption and other essential cross-cutting topics like economics, leadership and law, but also to become a part of a unique international network of professionals.

Shaun Riordan
Director of the Chair for Diplomacy and Cyberspace of the European Institute of International Studies and UNITAR Expert

“ IACA and UNITAR have created a one-of-a-kind Master degree that not only highlights the nexus between anti-corruption efforts and multilateral diplomacy, but also includes a series of interdisciplinary modules and modules on essential diplomatic skills, effectively preparing future leaders for an international career.
